

With WB-712 up to 12 zones in a traditional irrigation setup can have a dedicated moisture sensor for each zone. WB-712 is a retrofit solution for an existing irrigation system. The moisture sensor sets the irrigation interval based on the real-time measured soil moisture (not a guess or prediction), independent of controller settings.

Plants can still be watered using the controller.

